Training Program for Final-Year Students with ATS Resume-Building Skills

Bhopal, August 7, 2026: Sant Hirdaram Girls College, Bhopal, organised a Creative ATS Resume CV Building Workshop for final-year students through its Training and Placement Cell. The workshop aimed to equip students with the skills to create effective and professional resumes aligned with current recruitment practices and enhance their chances of success in Applicant Tracking System based hiring processes.

The workshop was conducted by Ms. Mimi Abraham, Assistant Professor, SHGC, who guided students on the structure of ATS-friendly resumes, selecting relevant keywords, writing an effective professional profile, presenting achievements strategically, and avoiding common resume errors. Through live demonstrations and practical examples, she simplified the resume-building process and addressed students' queries.

Addressing the students on the occasion, Dr. Dalima Parwani, Principal of the College, emphasised that in today's competitive environment, academic qualifications alone are not enough; the ability to present oneself effectively is equally important. She stated that a well-structured, professional and ATS-friendly resume serves as a candidate's first professional identity. She encouraged students to continuously develop their skills, personality and communication abilities and prepare themselves for employment opportunities. She added that such training programmes not only enhance students' confidence but also motivate them to move towards successful careers.

The students participated enthusiastically and gained practical insights into resume building. The workshop helped them understand the evolving requirements of modern recruitment and prepare themselves in line with industry expectations.

The programme concluded with the Training and Placement Cell expressing gratitude to Ms. Mimi Abraham and encouraging the students to apply their learning effectively as they work towards building a bright professional future.

Nurturing Creativity Through Pottery-Making Workshop

Bhopal, August 8, 2026: The Language Department of Sant Hirdaram Girls College, Bhopal, organized a pottery-making workshop for students on the occasion of National Handloom Day. The workshop aimed to connect students with India's rich tradition of art and crafts while fostering creativity, skills and a spirit of self-reliance among them. The students participated enthusiastically and learned techniques for creating a variety of artistic and utility items from clay. The instructor provided practical training in clay preparation, shaping, pottery making and various methods of decoration. The students shaped the clay themselves, created attractive artefacts and showcased their creative talent.

On the occasion, Principal of the College, Dr. Dalima Parwani, said that Indian handicrafts are an integral part of our rich cultural heritage. Connecting students with traditional arts is not only about preserving our culture but also about nurturing creative thinking, patience and skills among them. She added that such workshops strengthen the spirit of Vocal for Local while also encouraging the younger generation to engage with Indian art and crafts.

During the workshop, the students described their experience of working with clay as highly engaging and enriching. They said that the activity provided them with an opportunity to understand traditional art more closely and create something with their own hands.

The initiative by the College not only promoted Indian traditional art, handicrafts and skill-based learning but also developed a renewed interest and awareness among the students towards local art and crafts.
